Public Affairs Broadcast Specialists shoot video, write broadcast news stories, and support public affairs operations from the brigade to army level. They serve as key personnel for broadcast operations for the American Forces Network in locations worldwide, as well as produce products in support of Psychological Operations.

As a 46R, You Will:

Research, prepare, and disseminate broadcast products for Public Affairs and Psychological Operations

Prepare scripts and news copy for live and taped news and entertainment programs

Coordinate release of radio and TV information products and visual information to Army units, distribution centers and civilian organizations

Develop ideas for stories, news gathering, conducting interviews and shooting video
